Navigating towards a Decarbonized Future: Making an Impact with Investments in Green Shipping

16.04.2024, 14.00-14.50, Alternative Stage

Co-organizers: European Community Shipowners Associations, Hellenic Impact Investing Network

Decarbonization of shipping is not a question of if but a question of how. How can investments in innovative solutions promote a more sustainable future?

Sustainability experts, investment professionals and shipping specialists will discuss the viability and future of environmentally friendly shipping within the global maritime industry. As the world seeks to reduce carbon emissions and protect marine ecosystems, the shipping sector stands at crossroads, facing the challenge of adopting greener practices amidst growing environmental concerns and tighter regulation. The panel will also address the role and need of investments in creating and scaling up innovative solutions such as alternative fuels and energy efficiency technologies, as well as touch on sustainable maritime infrastructure too, among others.
